The logo for Stewart's is a stylized, cursive script. The word "Stewart's" is written in a flowing, handwritten font. The 'S' is large and prominent, with a long, sweeping stroke. The 't' has a small vertical stem and a loop. The 'e' is narrow and elegant. The 'w' is wide and rounded. The 'a' is simple and rounded. The 'r' has a vertical stem and a small loop. The 's' at the end is large and has a long, sweeping tail that loops back under the 'r'.

Since you're not very "dear" I won't begin "Dear Jackie" so:

JACQUELINE LOUISE MORRIS

If in future years you can't read this please understand (if possible) that I'm writing while riding on the bus. You haven't had any exciting dreams for me to write about so I won't! Last year fond memories were of "Joe" Hormel and evolution in 211. This year we have history together but that's nothing compared to Biology! True! We ride home together with the pleasure of each other's company along with Bollus, Pat, and Vic. Don't forget our conversations about Bruce, George, and KENNY!!

Well you say I must close so,

Love ya (Kenny)

TAYLOR PUBLISHING COMPANY

"The World's Best Yearbooks Are Taylor-made"

Dear Jackie,

It's really been fun giving you sign language in study. We really had a blast going downtown, didn't we? I think its about time for another serious talk, agreed? I wish we were going to college together, but it can't be helped. Be good when you go down to David Lipscomb next year and be sure and write to me, if you can, I'm gonna stay from George if I can, I'm gonna break JoAnne of all that stuff. You and I are going to wage a 2-woman campaign to clean up her morals. O.K. we'll try to go to college with her next and keep an eye on her. Someone will have to. We'll have to get together a lot this summer especially so I can see George. The hell just rained so I have to split the scene.

Love,
Janyca

Come to our, we'll graduation. I'll try to go to Jo's if she graduates. That'll be a blast.
